- 3C. The Board shall publish from time to time a general statement of the minimum level of competence reasonably to be expected of a barrister when first qualified to practise.

Part II - Admission to Inns of Court

Eligibility for Admission

4. To be eligible for admission to an Inn under these Regulations a person must:
 - (a) have the necessary educational qualifications; and
 - (b) be a fit and proper person to become a practising barrister.

5. A person has the necessary educational qualifications to be admitted to an Inn if that person:
 - (a) is reading for a Qualifying Law Degree; or
 - (b) is attending (or has been accepted for and is about to attend) a Conversion Course; or
 - (c) has completed (or been exempted under Part VII of these Regulations from) the Academic Stage of training.

6. A person is a fit and proper person to become a practising barrister if:
 - (a) there is no reason to expect that that person, if admitted to an Inn, will engage in conduct which is dishonest or which otherwise makes that person unfit to become a practising barrister; and
 - (b) that person does not suffer from serious incapacity due to mental disorder (within the meaning of the Mental Health Act 1983), addiction to alcohol or drugs or any other condition which makes that person unfit to become a practising barrister.

7. In the case of an applicant who is a member of an Authorised Body or a Qualified European Lawyer, a Certificate of Good Standing is to be treated as conclusive evidence that the applicant is a fit and proper person to become a practising barrister.

8. A person whose application for admission to an Inn has been rejected on the ground that that person is not a fit and proper person to become a practising barrister or who has been expelled from an Inn because of a disciplinary offence may not apply for admission to an Inn unless a period of at least five years (or such other period as the Board may determine in the particular case) has elapsed from the date of such rejection or expulsion.

15. When the Inns' Conduct Committee is asked to decide whether the applicant is a fit and proper person to become a practising barrister, it must send a report of its decision and the reasons for the decision to the applicant and to the Inn.

16. If the Inns' Conduct Committee decides that the applicant is not a fit and proper person to become a practising barrister or if the Inn rejects an application for admission for any other reason, the applicant may request a review of the decision under Part X of these Regulations, provided that the request is made in writing to the Board within one month of the date when notice of the decision was given.
